POST VIDEO V

FIXPROOF

From AI-proposed patch to reviewable evidence

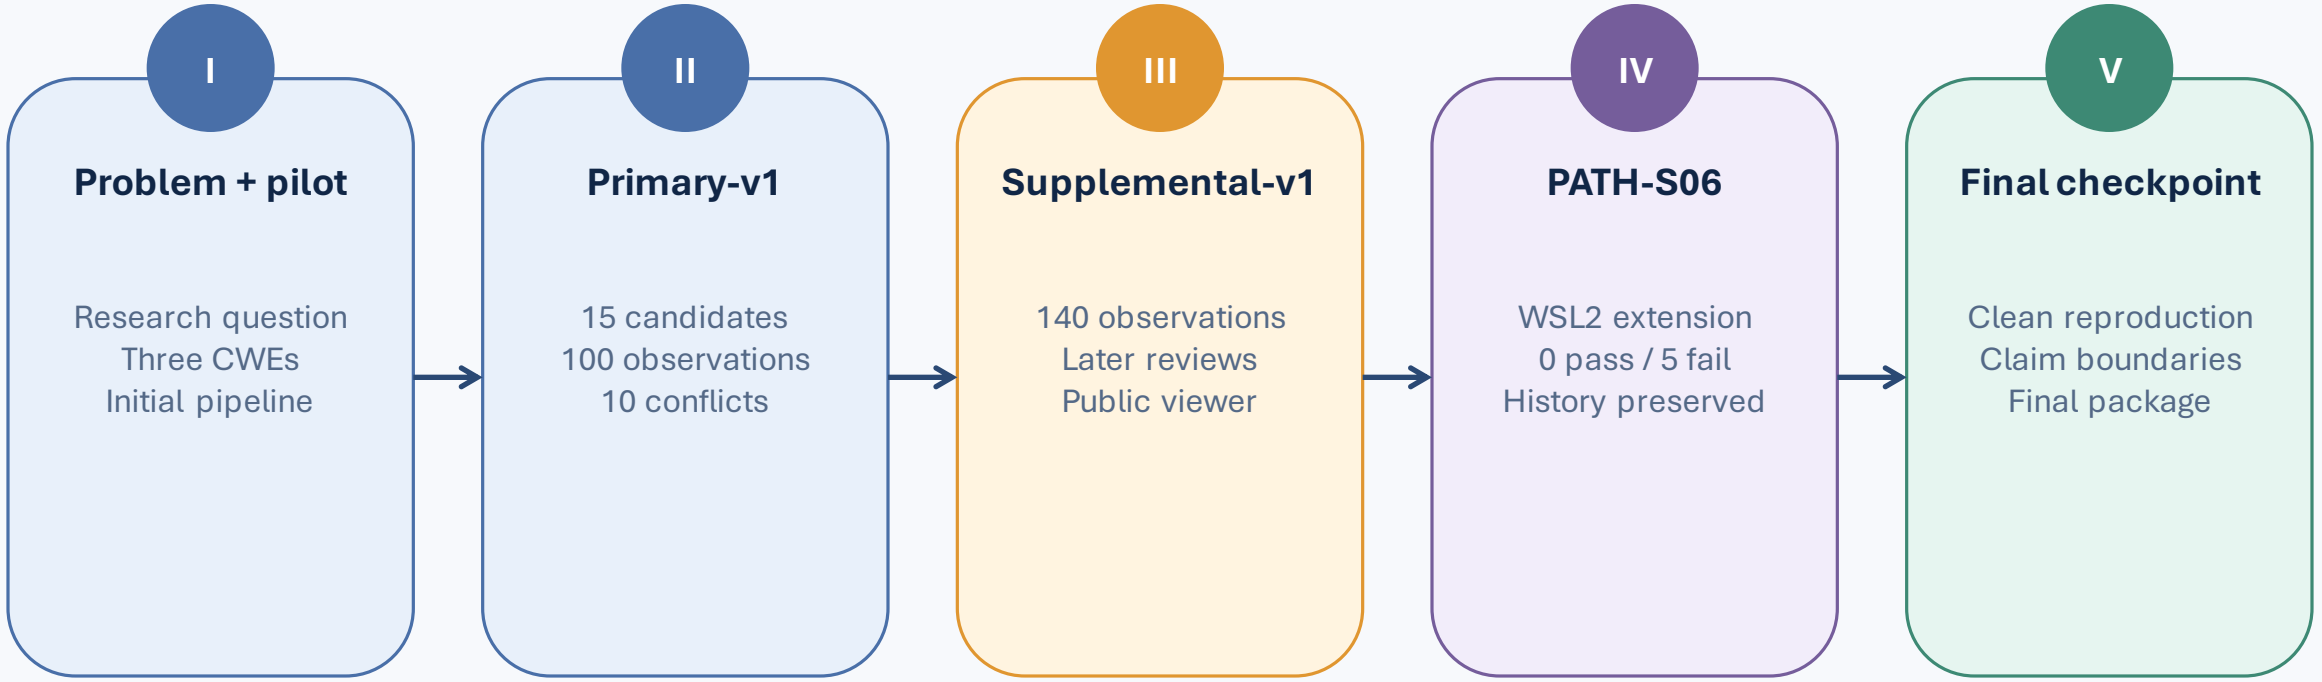

Final evidence and reproducibility checkpoint

15 CANDIDATES

245 CASE ROWS

131 TESTS PASSED

How the project progressed

VIDEO V CONSOLIDATES THE EVIDENCE - IT ADDS NO NEW EXPERIMENT

Python coordinates; separate authorities decide

No automatic approval or deployment

`src/fixproof/ -> data/primary_trials/v1/ -> data/primary_reviews/v1/`

Three evidence layers, three denominators

PRIMARY-v1

15 candidates

100 observations

5/15 target SAST resolved
15/15 primary suites passed
10 SAST/runtime disagreements

SUPPLEMENTAL-v1

140 observations

120 pass | 15 fail | 5 inconclusive

Security, behavioral parity, and robustness remain separate

PATH-S06 EXTENSION

5 observations

0 pass | 5 fail | 0 inconclusive

One registered Linux symbolic-link case per candidate

29 HUMAN RECORDS

Primary, supplemental, and extension outcomes are not one combined success rate.

Why multiple evidence channels mattered

REFLECTED XSS

PASSED

Registered attacks blocked

QUALIFICATION

4 of 5 failed XSS-P01 parity

Later rejection for exact behavior - not continued exploitability

SQL INJECTION

PASSED

Security 15/15 | parity 10/10

QUALIFICATION

SQL-R01 failed for all five

Bounded injection acceptance with robustness limitation disclosed

PATH TRAVERSAL

Direct ../ request rejected

QUALIFICATION

PATH-S06 failed for all five

Later rejection: lexical checks did not contain symlink targets

A pass in one evidence channel does not erase a recorded failure in another.

Reproducible and reviewable package

Bounded conclusion and next milestones

SUPPORTED

- OK Traceable decisions for registered cases
- OK Visible disagreements, regressions, and qualifications
- OK Reproducible evidence package in the tested environment

NOT ESTABLISHED

- Production repair-success rate
- Scanner accuracy across repositories
- Generalization beyond three controlled Express fixtures

ASK Is one candidate example enough to explain validators, policy, and human judgment?
